In order to counteract Jack's requests for this's & that's we have implemented a pocket money regime. Jack thought this was a great idea and went into his room & found his piggy bank and managed to open it. I'm rich I'm rich he shouted! To Richard and my surprise he was - he has be snaffling away every coin he found for the last two years and had well over $20 in there